

Culinary route (2 weeks)

During this Culinary Trip we will take you to special places, with special restaurants and much more... because we also provide a lovely surprise during this trip! We won't tell you more, otherwise it won't be a surprise.

Saturday      Arrival Sivota, Lefkas

Sivota is a beautiful bay that offers a safe haven for our fleet and along the marina of Sivota are a number of lovely fish tavernas and restaurants. Our jetty is managed by Theo, the owner of the 12 Gods restaurant. 12 Gods is where we hold our briefings and joint dinners.

Sunday      Sivota, Lefkas – Fiskardo, Kefalonia

Fiskardo on the island of Kefalonia is a place you will most certainly remember because of the colourful houses. The village is the only one to survive the earthquake of 1953. This place is very cosy and beautiful and so popular! Many terraces on the water, trendy; the Monaco of the Ionian Sea.

Monday      Fiskardo, Kefalonia – Lefkas Stad

Lefkas town, also called Lefkado, is a lovely town. Terrace restaurants and fish tavernas abound and locally the made dishes are very good. On the west side of the marina you will find several bars with terraces on the water and on the east side you will find mostly restaurants and cafes. Of course we dine at Ey Zhn; a small taverna run by chef Alex.

Tuesday      Lefkas – Parga, mainland

Parga is recognizable by its fortress "Kastelli" in the hills and along the sandy beach. Here you can enjoy swimming and or SUPping. We dine at W&F Wine & Food at beautifully set tables with a sea view.

Wednesday      Parga, mainland

Today we stay in Parga, so there is time to wander in the many streets that Parga has, but of course you can also go to the beach. For those who wish, we start the day with an extensive breakfast buffet at Cape North West. The rest of the day is spent at leisure and in the evening we dine here again, where tantalizing flavours, inspiring ingredients and gastronomic mastery are harmoniously combined in a menu of exquisite creations.

Thursday      Parga, mainland – Mongonisi, Paxos

Mongonissi is located south of Paxos, just 4 kilometers from the capital Gaios. What makes this small island so unique is the complexity of its landscape. In addition, the deep blue sea, the sandy beach, and the impressive caves form an ideal landscape. We continue our culinary sailing trip at Mongonisi Beach Bar. Their motto is: We serve you as we would serve our friends.

Friday      Mongonisi, Paxos – BBQ-bay, mainland

A beautiful sandy beach on the mainland where a BBQ is organized in the evening especially for the flotilla. Before that time, there is swimming or various other water sport activities on offer. This will be a special BBQ, specially adapted to our route.

Culinary route (2 weeks)

Saturday BBQ-bay, mainland – Corfu stad, Corfu

At the foot of the fortress is Mandraki, a small private club marina. Here we are docked using mooring lines. It is a short walk to Corfu city. The beautiful fortresses, the houses in Venetian style, the impressive squares, the narrow alleys, and cosy terraces ensure that it is a city that makes a big impression. We dine here, at the foot of the fortress, on the water.

Sunday Corfu stad, Corfu – Red Rock, mainland

This will be a culinary surprise, but also a surprise in terms of location. This unique bay is perfect for a lovey walking dinner.

Monday Red Rock, mainland – Lakka, Paxos

The bay of Lakka is bowl-shaped. The sea water in the bay has the most spectacular shades of blue and partly because of the olive trees and cypresses that grow on the shoreline, it looks like a lake. The marina town has its own sailing club and a small pedestrian promenade with numerous terraces. We dine at Akis Fish Bar & Restaurant with a beautiful location right on the water. The restaurant serves a selection of quality Mediterranean dishes.

Tuesday Lakka, Paxos

Today we stay on Paxos as it is more than worth it to walk around the island. The west coast of Paxos has beautiful cliffs and here you can look for your own private beaches.

Wednesday Lakka, Paxos – Preveza, mainland

Preveza is a coastal town in west Greece. In the old center of Preveza you can stroll through the narrow streets with the Seitan Bazaar, the Venetian clock tower from 1752, the Venetian fortress Agios Andreas from the 18th century and the stately mansions from the 19th century. We will have dinner at Kaixis Mermaid Restaurant, where the "Amvrakia Shrimps", based on grandmothers' recipe, are highly recommended.

Thursday Preveza, mainland – Karnayo, Meganissi

Meganissi is a small (20 km<sup>2</sup>) island southeast of Lefkas. Karnayo Bay lays immediately to starboard. A small family taverna with private beach and jetty where we will be docked with mooring lines.

Friday Karnayo, Meganissi – Sivota, Lefkas

Unfortunately, this is where we end our culinary journey, not in terms of the place and the restaurant but because the trip has come to an end. Nevertheless, we will end this special journey in a special way!

NOTE: Weather permitting you can drop anchor in various bays if you wish.

The route can change from autumn and spring due to weather conditions and possible opportunities in particular marinas. These routes are example routes!
